The Nineteen Hundred and Thirty Three Northern

A Diary Published
by the Junior Class of the Ohio Northern University
Ada, Ohio

Preface

TO recount a story is not the sole function of a diary. It is most valuable for its reflecting the personality of its composor. This is Ohio Northern's diary for the year Nineteen Hundred Thirty Three. How better can its personality — integrated from campus, Faculty, students, — be portrayed than pictorially? How better recall in future years those happy moments, intimate associations, surroundings which are Familiar now, but which will Fade with the years of absence, than to record them as they actually are through the medium of the camera's eye?

ROBERT WILLIAMS

THE light of this troubled world first broke upon my eyes in the beautiful vale of the Aire, in Yorkshire, England, not far from the Priory of Bolton, which Wordsworth has immortalized in his poem, The Doe of Rylstone, and not much farther from the famous home of equally famous Bronte sisters. My memory is still green of a boyhood spent in the neighborhood of a sixteenth century church and an ancient castle. It seems as if I had been cradled amid a thousand years of history.

My parents, not being Dukes, emigrated to the United States when I was yet young, and apparently having a full sense of their responsibilities, brought me with them. And so I have grown up, a citizen of the United States. Now there come memories of New England, my jobs there and later my education. And so to Rhode Island, Connecticut and Massachusetts I am indebted for such formal training as I have; preparation for college at the East Greenwich Academy; college career at old Wesleyan University, and graduate work of various sorts at Harvard, Yale and Boston. Since coming to the Middle West two other colleges have enrolled me as an adopted son, namely Albion and Ohio Wesleyan.

Most of my life has been spent in work, with only a little leisure for play. As a parson, teacher, dean and president my hands have been rather full of cares. Providence has apparently ordained me to be a son of toil, and I have no quarrel with this arrangement. However, among my hobbies are included a little golf and less tennis. If when and as I have opportunity for books, poetry, philosophy and religion absorb much of my thought. My serious interests are my wife and my children, for I realize with Francis Bacon, that he who marries and has children gives hostages to Fortune.

Besides being a citizen of this Republic, I am a Methodist, a Republican with Democratic ideas, a more or less casual Mason, and am listed along with other college presidents in Who's Who, where the curious can be satisfied as to further details of my life.

The Senior Class

LOOKING back on those freshman days, we see ourselves as an eager, energetic, ambitious group rubbing elbows with upper-classmen. We were setting ourselves to the task of studies, and spending our leisure in singing pursuit of the god, "activity." Then we were enjoying the new experiences of college life and the opportunity to matriculate in the university. Now we are pleased with the wonderful days well spent. During the years we have found delight and experience a pleasing combination as we have drawn both from our work. Busy hours passed magically, weeks swiftly followed weeks, until the job was done and a new one found. Each task promoting in some way the vital factors of university life, and all its participants benefiting therefrom. Thus we advanced toward the time when we should use our newly gained experiences to meet new situations.

And so for the past four years the class of 1933 has made its record at O. N. U. See here a record of us, the things we did, our faces and those of the people with whom we gathered on the campus some years ago. Staunch and loyal friends, all our classmates, and now we are come to the end, each to travel a different way to establish himself in the world. We have diplomas and words of courage and wisdom to take along, the first to place in some conspicuous place, the second with the vast array of things that we have learned from books, from association with our fellow students and from the men who taught us. The cap and gown become us well as our families and friends come to say farewell on what bids fair to be a journey, so definitely have we prepared. Yes, years of preparation are behind us.

Why should we see so mistily the buildings we have known, the friends we leave behind. That mist we see now will surely return in the future when the proper occasion conjures up the picture of our past experiences on the campus. For such memories we are destined.

The Junior Class

THE Junior class may be favorably compared to a book. We are at this time living in the sub-climax and very soon Will be approaching the climax.

Many types of stories are represented here, in fact as many different types as there are members in the class. Each day a new page is added to our book, and at this time we realize with no little remorse that the Final chapter looms not far in the distance.

The theme of our story may be, and is, a varied one. However, it is built around one word, namely progress. Progress, the most important essential in life by which we accomplish our tasks, and overcome the many obstacles in our way.

There is no one particular hero or heroine. These roles may be given to many—the leaders and outstanding members of our class. Those playing roles of less importance must not be slighted, for without them our book could not exist.

The plot is seemingly simple when studied from the outer surface, but has a tendency to become somewhat complicated when delved into. A whirlpool of activity involving studies, athletics, fraternal life. All find happiness, and enjoyment in some or all of these.

The setting is a typical small American college campus, and all that is significant thereof.

We hope to live and conduct ourselves so that when the Final page of our story has been written, our professors and instructors may read it and respect us.

The Sophomore Class

COLLEGE SOPHOMORES— To most persons the word carries the idea of a group "who know and know that they know." This may be said of Ohio Northern's sophomores. The class is outstanding in scholarship, with several members attaining the highest possible excellence in their work.

Sophomores are prominent in all athletics, with a large number of men receiving their "N" sweaters in Football, Milan Baker and Joe Ayers doing outstanding work in basketball, and Jerry Fling making a name for himself, and for the school, in boxing and wrestling. The girls, not to be outdone, won the non-sorority volleyball championship.

Members of the class have shown their journalistic ability by work on the Northern Review and the Northern. The school, recognizing their ability in this line, has honored several members with invitations to join Alpha Phi Gamma.

Leading parts in several school plays have been taken by sophomore members of Northern Players.

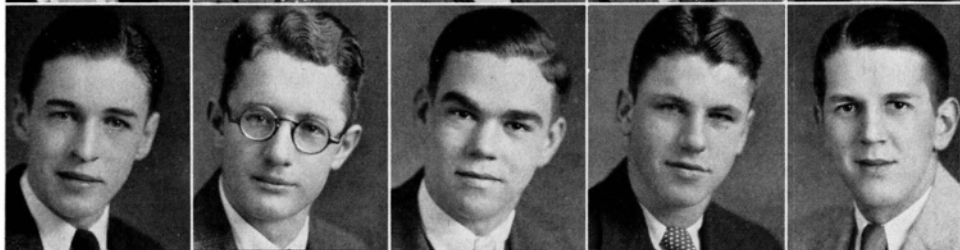

When one stops to consider that, in two brief years, a group such as this has so far advanced, there is no doubt in one's mind that with the succeeding two years bringing new opportunities for advancement and progress, the spirit of the class of '35 will forever live in the memory of O. N. U.

The Freshman Class

TO be Freshmen enjoying the thrills and responsibilities of college life for the first time is indeed an exciting experience. Now that the novelty is beginning to wear off, however, the Freshmen are really coming through and are showing their true colors.

In addition to attaining excellence along academic lines, they are to be found, active participants, in all extra-curricular activities as well.

This newest class at Ohio Northern has the true school spirit, and, in the next three years, is going to prove that it is backing the University in all its ideals and undertakings.

Legislation Board and House Council

LEGISLATIVE Board and House Council are intrinsic divisions of the governmental plan underlying the constitution of the Association of Women Students, playing an important part in developing the policies of the organization.

The Legislative Board composed of the four A.W.S. officers, plus the president of the Y.W.C.A., the president of W.A.A., the president of Pan-Hellenic, and representatives from each of the four classes, was organized to strengthen the various women's organizations, to prevent their programs from overlapping, and to determine their general policies. House Council, composed of nine house presidents and town representatives, has for its chief purpose consideration of house problems as they affect both the group and the individual. It also acts, however, in carrying out the general social and academic policies decided upon by the Legislative Board.

The Northern Review

Ohio's Best Weekly College Newspaper

THE NORTHERN REVIEW, edited for the second year by Edwin Teple, has continued to maintain the same high class caliber journalism that marked it last year as one of Ohio's best college newspapers.

This year marked a new policy on the part of Ohio Northern's publications in pursuance of which both the Review and the Northern extended their activities over into the social life of the University. A Press Prom on April First, was so well accepted that it will probably become an annual event.

A further step was taken this year by Alpha Phi Gamma, national honorary journalistic fraternity, when it extended membership to members of the Northern Staff as well as to those of the Northern Review Staff. Previously only members of the latter were eligible.

CLYDE LAMB

Professor Lamb has placed the physical education department at Ohio Northern on a high plane. Due to the economic situation, a few inter-collegiate sports have been dropped, but Director Lamb has instituted and developed a highly successful system of intra-mural athletics. Professor Lamb has always been a strong exponent of the belief that athletics should be participated in by the greatest number possible, and has worked unceasingly to accomplish that end.

COACH HARRIS LAMB

Harris Lamb is one of the most popular coaches that Northern has ever had. A real leader, full of "drive" and ambition, Lamb is a real inspiration to his squads.

At Coe College, Lamb was a bright star in athletics, and since then he has proven himself to be a most capable coach. Not in years have Northern's teams stepped into collegiate competition, so well-trained, so spirited and full of good sportsmanship as Harris Lamb has produced since taking the helm as head coach.

Ohio Northern 0 Pittsburgh 47

The Pittsburgh Panthers, subsequent guests in the annual game of the Tournament of Roses on New Year's Day, served as hosts to Ohio Northern in The Bear's initial grid-iron encounter of the 1932 season.

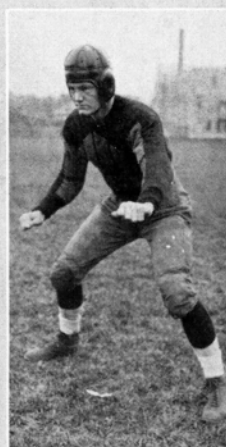

The Panthers, a heavier and more experienced eleven, used this weight and experience damagingly, scoring seven touchdowns, and playing a perfect defensive game.

Ohio Northern 6 Bluffton 6

The first home game of the season found the Bluffton Beavers invading the Bear Lair. A hot, sultry afternoon left both teams with little offensive power. A first quarter touchdown placed Northern in the lead until the final minutes of the last quarter when a well executed Bluffton pass knotted the score. The closing minutes found both teams attempting innumerable passes. The game ended in a tie however.

Ohio Northern 9 Otterbein 0

An invasion of the highly touted Otterbein Cardinals camp opened the Ohio Conference season for the Norsemen. The game was only well under way, when an off tackle play—good for sixty yards—netted the count necessary for victory. However, in the opening minutes of the second quarter the Bears clinched the game with a well-directed place kick from the twenty-five yard line. Northern easily held the nine point advantage until the final gun cracked.

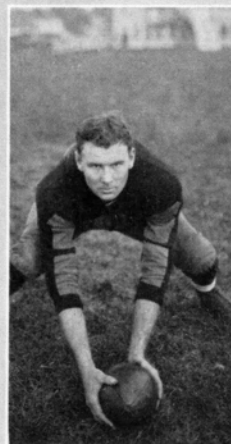

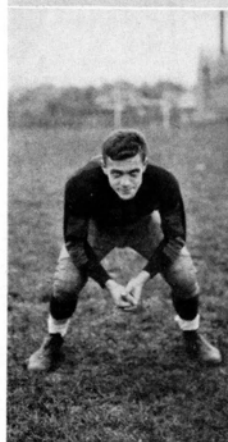

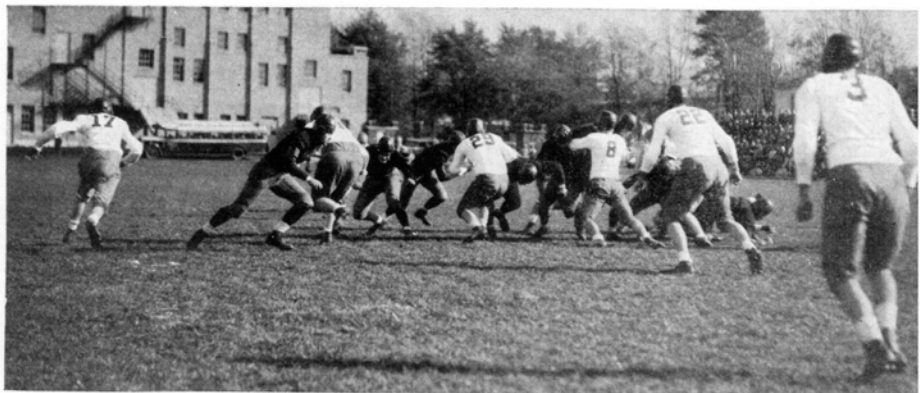

Ohio Northern 19 Hiram 0

Scoring two touchdowns early in the first quarter, and chalking up a third in the third quarter, Northern coasted to an easy 19—0 win over a scrappy Hiram eleven.

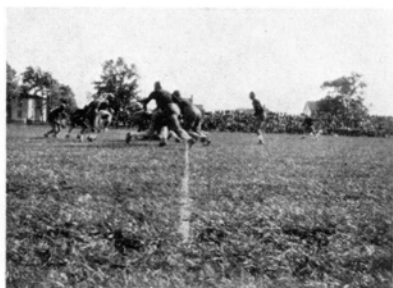

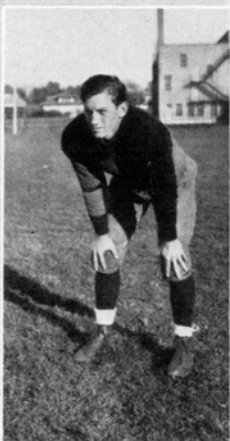

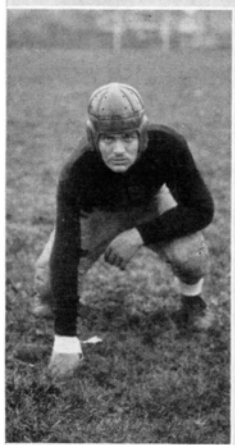

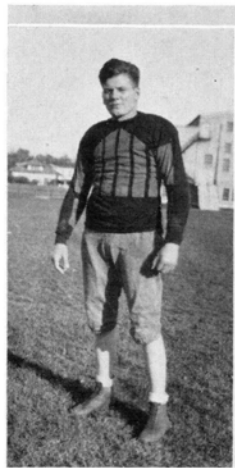

The Bears displayed a fine running attack that netted them first downs as needed. Some kind of an unenviable record was set up by Northern in this encounter. Sixteen passes were attempted, 'nary a one' was completed.

Ohio Northern 14 Capital 2

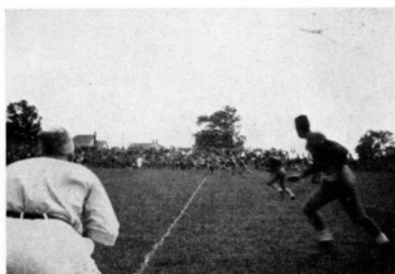

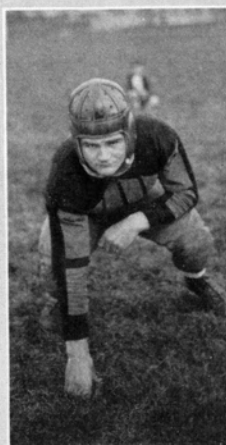

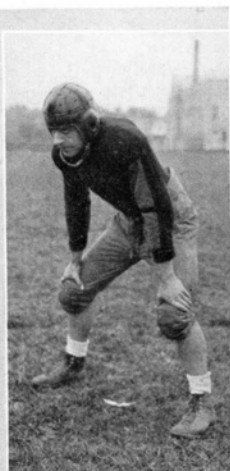

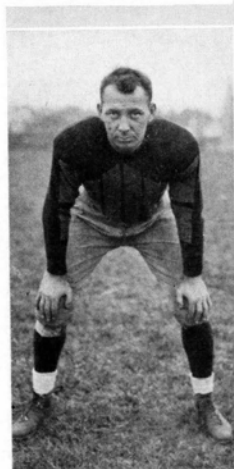

Saturday, October 29, 1933 will ever be a memorable day in Ohio Northern University grid circles, The Homecoming jinx of seven years growth ~~was~~ officially buried. The Luther-ans from Capital fell before an onslaught of vengeful Bears. The day was exceedingly windy. Capital's two points were scored on a punt blown back over the head of the Northern punter and into the end zone. Nevertheless, the large homecoming crowd were treated to a fine exhibition of the prowess of a well-coached grid machine.

Ohio Northern 0 Marietta 6

Marietta turned back Ohio Northern in the Norsemen's only conference defeat. A touchdown in the last period of a stiffly-contested gridiron duel gave the Pioneers the necessary margin for the win. A spectacular return of a Bear punt paved the way for the lone touchdown of the game. Northern outgained Marietta, but were unable to break through for a scoring play.

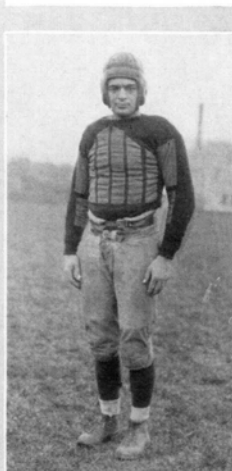

Ohio Northern 20 Bowling Green 0

Concluding the 1932 grid season with a conference win over the strong Bowling Green eleven, Northern finished fourth in the twenty-two team Ohio Conference.

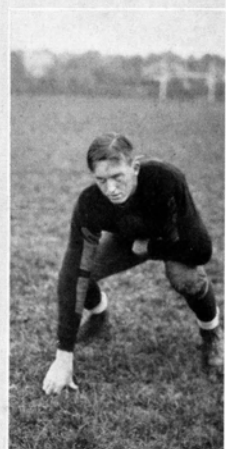

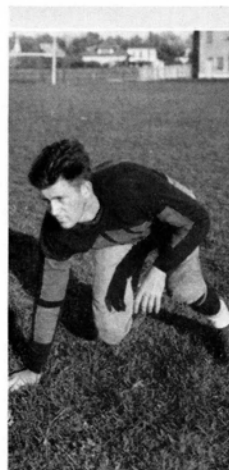

The game ~~was~~ a Northern game throughout. Although the husky upstate eleven displayed a strong defensive team, the Bears outclassed them in all departments.

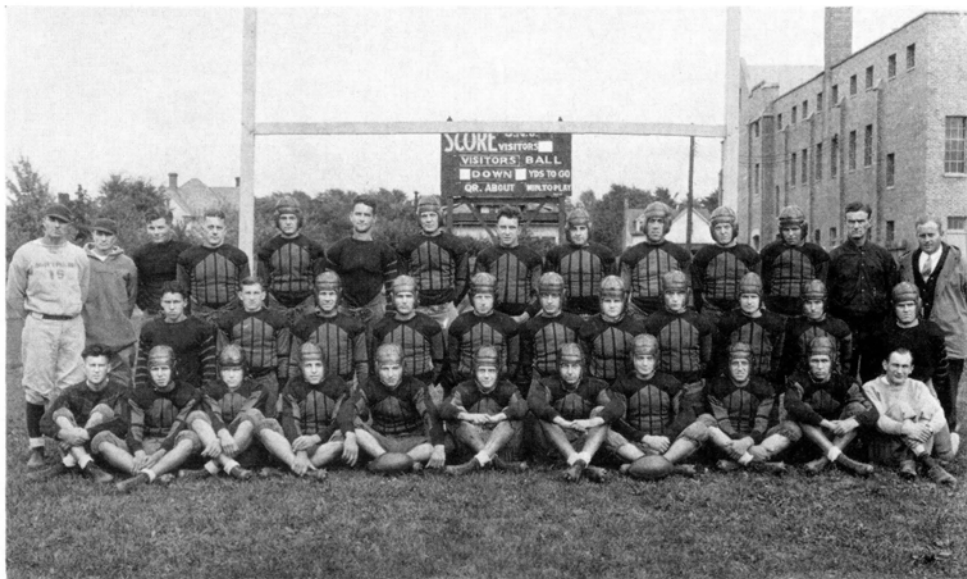

The final gun of the Bowling Green game heralded the conclusion of collegiate gridiron careers for ten Northern athletes. Graduation of ten lettermen, leaves openings for yearling athletes. Weight and speed must make for lack of experience in next year's squad.

THE opening of the 1932 football season found Ohio Northern with prospects of one of the finest grid teams in recent years. Nine letter men returned to form the nucleus about which Coach Lamb built a conference championship contender.

Although handicapped by a few minor injuries the Gridsters developed rapidly, forming an aggregation that won five games, lost two, and tied one.

The first game was a real test of the strength and ability of the Northern Bears. The team traveled to Pittsburgh where they were the guests of the University of Pittsburgh. The ultimate Rose Bowl visitors at the Tournament of Roses, handed the Bears a reverse after a clean, stiffly-contested battle.

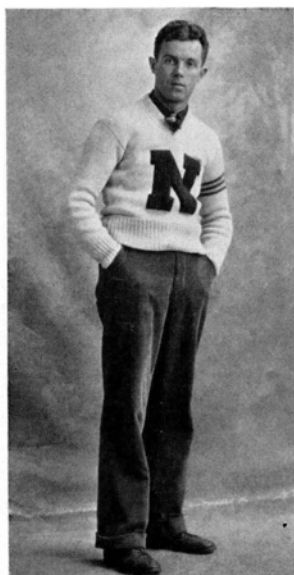

Returning home they encountered a scrappy Bluffton eleven who managed to eke out a tie. The following three Saturdays found the Norsemen defeating Otterbein, Hiram and Capital, before bowing to Marietta in their only conference defeat. In the final game of the 1932 season Northern returned to the win column at the expense of the teachers from Bowling Green.

The five wins and one defeat gave Ohio Northern a fourth place position in the 22-team Ohio Conference.

Freshman Football

"CANNON FODDER." The freshman football man goes through the year without the plaudits of the crowd. He furnishes the opposition necessary to produce a strong varsity. His task is cheerless. He must take his full share of the bumps and bruises. Yet, these first year men usually stick it out, and really come to enjoy their job.

The frosh squad this year was no exception to the rule. The boys fought hard, and were eager to show and be shown. The varsity next year is certain to get added punch from this strong squad.

Howard Sandrock put the yearlings through their paces this season, and the manner in which he conducted affairs merits commendation.

Evans, Hutcheson, Sherard, Bowen

Managers

Out of the limelight and getting few praises, these fellows merit great credit. It takes four years of hard work to win a manager's letter.

Cheerleaders

The job of leading cheers is no easy road to fame. It takes courage, patience, and soothing leadership to coax yells out of a crowd that is more interested in seeing the Alma Mater win than in contributing its moral support. Any success along this line is certainly worthy of recognition.

Bowen, Caples

VARSDTY BASKETBALL

Basket Ball

Ohio Northern 89 — Toledo 31

The Northern Basketeers opened the season with a Conference victory in the fieldhouse of Toledo University. Although the game ~~was~~ close throughout a snappy, short-passing attack gave the Bears a two point margin when the final gun cracked.

Ohio Northern 23 —Bluffton 24

A fast, scrappy Bluffton team forced Northern into an overtime. Northern started ~~slow~~, then forged ahead, only to be tied again at the end of the game. In the overtime the Bears made three free throws, but Bluffton's two field goals gave them a one point victory.

Ohio Northern 42 —Bowling Green 28

The Bears overcame a 19—2 Bowling Green lead, in a last half rally that completely swamped the upstaters. A powerful offense coupled with a type of defensive play that held the Bee Gees to one field goal the last half, gave the Northernites their second consecutive Conference win.

Ohio Northern 57 —Capital 22

Scoring almost at will, the fast stepping Northern quintet easily downed the visiting Lutherans from Capital. The Bears opened with a rush, and hit the hoop with an amazing rapidity. From the start the outcome of the game ~~was~~ never in doubt.

Ohio Northern 28 —Otterbein 46

After an even battle in the First half, the Bears attack and defense collapsed, and they were completely outplayed by the team that later proved to be the Ohio Conference Champions. The Cardinals gained momentum as the game progressed and won a decisive victory.

Ohio Northern 25—Wooster 46

After being held to a 19—12 score at the half, Wooster's band of sharpshooters found the range, to clinch the game early in the second half. Northern played great ball the first half and were ahead 12—10 with but three minutes to play. Wooster quickly rolled up three goals and took a lead which they never relinquished.

Ohio Northern 34 —Muskingum 24

Taking an early lead which they held throughout the game, the Lambmen returned to the Ohio Conference win column at the expense of Muskingum. With their offensive plays clicking the Bears were able to coast to their sixth conference victory.

Ohio Northern 31 —Toledo 29

In a return game, Northern again beat Toledo by exactly the same score that they had earlier in the season, 31—29. The game was hotly contested, and neither team was able to control the situation for any great length of time. The lead changed several times but a spurt by Northern netting seven points, gave them the close decision.

Ohio Northern 32—Hiram 28

On the road again, the Norsemen were extended to their utmost by Hiram. The end of the game found the score knotted at 28 all. In the overtime, the Bears scored two field goals and emerged triumphant, 32—28.

Ohio Northern 28—Ashland 52

The next night the Northern aggregation fell before the rangy Ashland five. The Bears, tired from the tussle with Hiram the preceding night, could not cope with the Ashland group and were no match for them on their home floor.

Ohio Northern 31—Bowling Green 32

In an unexpected upset, Bowling Green tallied in the last minute of play to give Northern a 32—31 setback. Northern seemingly had the game sewed up, until late in the last half, when a series of long shots from mid-court brought Bee Gee within striking distance.

Ohio Northern 40—Heidelberg 29

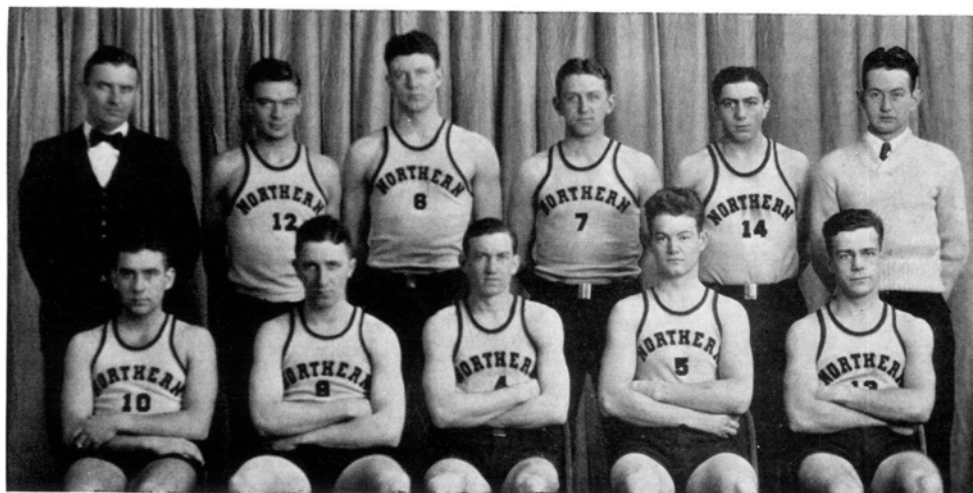

After three quarters of the game had been a see-saw affair, Northern hit a dizzy stride to score Five field goals in rapid succession to swamp the Student Princes. The game was fast and rough, but the Bears held the edge with a fast-breaking offense, that functioned well and resulted in many points for Northern.

Ohio Northern 40 Capital 34

Northern closed her 1933 Basketball Season with a conference win on the Capital floor. Often being twelve points behind at half-time, Northern woke up, and displaying their usual ability, outscored Capital 29 to 11 in the last half. As a result of this, their eighth conference victory, Northern finished in sixth place in the Ohio Conference.

Varsity Basket Ball

WINNING nine of their thirteen scheduled games, the Ohio Northern University Basketball quintet finished sixth in the 22-team Ohio Conference.

Four lettermen returned from the 1932 squad, thus insuring a seasoned group of court representatives. The height added by the sophomore contingent and the acquisition of several of last year's intramural stars gave Coach Lamb a galaxy of talent around which to mold a strong team.

The season opened with a conference win over Toledo. In rapid succession Bowling Green, Capital and Hiram fell before the ruthless Bears who thus held leadership in the conference. However, in visiting Ashland, Otterbein and Wooster on successive week ends the Nor men dropped to second division with triple defeats.

Returning home for a four-game stay the Lambmen conquered Muskingum, Toledo and Heidelberg, dropping a one-point game to Bowling Green. The invasion of Capital gave the quintet a win with which to conclude the 1933 season.

Prospects are bright for success during the 1934 campaign. Graduation takes only one man from the squad while eight lettermen are available for court duty.

Freshman Basket Ball

COACH Clyde Lamb has charge of the Freshman basketball at Ohio Northern. This year he whipped another fine squad into shape that bodes ill for Northern's future opponents.

The squad lacked great height, but made up for it in speed and pass work. It takes some effort for men from other schools to adjust themselves to other styles of play, but the squad this year possessed an unusual amount of basketball "Sense" and ability to adapt itself. The squad ~~was~~ composed of:

(Back row) Huebner, Boardman, Teple
Blair, Moore, Dowling, Studer

Fencing

OHIO Northern fencers retained their position of eminence in collegiate circles this year by again securing second place in the conference. In the four year's of inter-collegiate competition, Ohio Northern has taken second place three times and an undefeated first place once.

Despite the loss of almost all the veteran members this year, the team led the conference up to its last encounter, when a previously defeated Wittenberg team wrung the championship from it.

Coach Deming is deserving of the highest praise for his ability in making fencers.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

(Back row) Cseh, Archibald, Dowling
Rogers, Witt, Commesser, Hindall, Scholl

Intramural Basket Ball

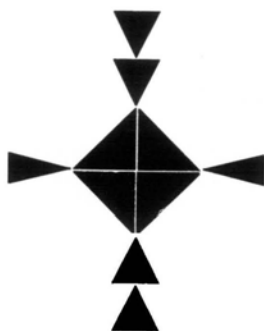

IN basketball it was Sig Ep all the way this year. The tall, rangy boys from the south end came through every game the victor, and then badly defeated the College Inn to become the Campus Champions. With a large squad, averaging over six feet in height, and with lot of speed, the Sig Eps displayed a high class brand of basketball. They are worthy champions of Northern's most popular intra-mural sport.

Balamenti, Sandrock

Handball

The T.N.E.'s were able to distance the field in the handball tournament. Handball is a minor sport, but one that requires a great deal of skill and agility. Sandrock and Balamenti were the representatives for their fraternity and were always "there" in the match.

W O M E N ' S S P O R T S

OHIO Northern is fortunate in having as its director of women's Athletics ~~Miss~~ Mildred Bruckheimer. During her stay at Ohio Northern she has been very successful, instituting many new activities such as archery, swimming, tap-dancing, horseback riding, volleyball, and hiking.

It was largely due to her efforts that W.A.A., one of the most active groups on the campus, was organized, and it has been through her untiring work that it has gained the eminent position which it now holds.

While here ~~Miss~~ Bruckheimer has also sponsored three play days which were highly successful affairs, acquainting hundreds of high school girls in surrounding schools with the advantages of Ohio Northern's physical education program.

Another successful feature of her yearly program is the annual W.A.A. revue, which rates high in collegiate entertainment. This revue has developed and brought to light many hidden talents of students on Northern's campus.

W. A. A.

THE Women's Athletic Association is an organization which offers to each woman a chance to participate in some form of supervised recreation. The purpose of W.A.A. is to further interest in sports and to encourage among the participants a feeling of cooperation and friendliness.

This year W.A.A. was especially active, organizing and supervising a volleyball, basketball, tennis, hockey, and archery tournament. During the Fall quarter, W.A.A. sponsored for the third successive year a play day for high school girls. At this time, they entertained approximately two hundred girls from some twenty surrounding high schools. This is an especially worth while activity, for it acquaints the high school girl with a summarized program of the athletic activity of a college girl.

One of the most successful enterprises undertaken this year by W.A.A. was the sponsoring of the Fall dance, which proved to be one of the outstanding social events of the Fall quarter.

White Sweaters

SINCE the institution, by W.A.A., of a system of awards for points received, the White Sweater group has acquired and maintained an outstanding position on Northern's campus. To receive one of these sweaters is quite an honor, for it means that the co-ed has acquired, through her participation in activities and through her membership in the athletic association, the necessary three hundred points.

The purpose of W.A.A. in awarding White Sweaters is to stimulate and develop interest in woman's sports on Northern's campus.

Swimming

ALTHOUGH the co-eds were hindered by not having their own pool, arrangements were made whereby members of W.A.A. could journey to Lima and swim in the Y.M.C.A. pool. Individual instruction was given to each girl, and much progress was shown.

In the advanced sections, especial attention was given to diving and the more difficult strokes, while the beginners were made to stress the necessary fundamentals and the easier strokes. All instruction was given under the personal supervision of ~~Miss~~ Bruckheimer.

Basket Ball

BASKETBALL again reigned supreme among Winter sports at Ohio Northern. Approximately fifty girls, comprising some seven teams, participated in the annual basketball tournament which was held the last part of the winter quarter. Theta Phi Delta emerged victorious, and won for the second year the sorority trophy.

Those teams participating were: Freshman, Phi Chi, Tau Theta Chi—mixed team, Xi Beta Chi, Sophomore, and Theta Phi Delta.

The tournament this year was managed entirely by co-eds, being sponsored and arranged by W.A.A.

Volleyball

WITH the possible exception of basketball, volley ball is the most outstanding intramural co-ed activity on the physical education program. This year, as in previous ones, it played a major part in the co-ed sport program.

The volleyball season was climaxed with a tournament held in Taft gymnasium. Over nine teams participated in this tournament. The Theta Phi Delta team, having completed the tournament with a perfect record, acquired, for the third successive year, the sorority trophy. The members of the highest ranking non-fraternity team, which was the Sophomore Blues, were awarded medals.

Tennis

ONE of the most popular sports on the campus during the Spring quarter ~~was~~ tennis. Since a large number of girls were interested, different classes were organized, and instruction ~~was~~ offered to both beginner and advanced performers.

This year, a tennis club ~~was~~ organized, and, during the latter part of the Spring quarter, it sponsored a tennis tournament in which a large number of co-eds participated. The winner of the tournament ~~was~~ awarded a medal.

Archery

ONE of the newest innovations on Northern's campus this year ~~was~~ the old and time-honored sport of archery. Although this was its first year on the campus, surprising advancement ~~was~~ shown by the large number of co-eds who participated in this sport.

So popular ~~did~~ archery become that it ~~was~~ carried over from the Fall quarter to the Spring quarter, when a tournament was held. It has, without a doubt, won for itself a lasting place on the co-ed sports program.

Hockey

DUE to the increased popularity of hockey among the co-eds at Northern, a greater amount of time was allotted to it this year. It has always been the outstanding sports activity of the early Fall quarter, and this year so much progress was shown that an inter-class tournament was arranged. This was to have been played the Fall quarter, but due to weather conditions, it was held over until the Spring quarter.

Hockey is increasingly becoming recognized as one of the outstanding sports activities for women, and the progress which Northern has made in developing it is to be especially recommended.

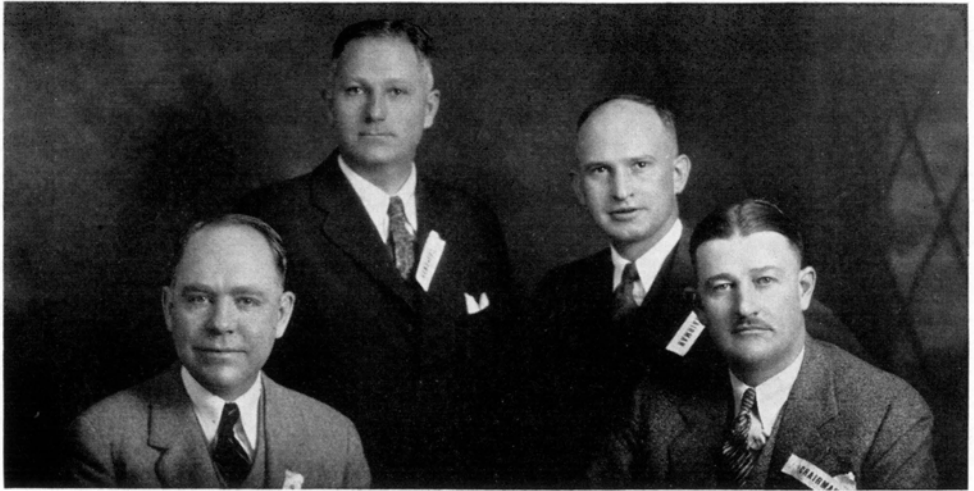

CAMPUS

Homecoming

HOMECOMING this year, held October 29, ~~was~~ a triumph, not only because everyone had a delightful time, but also because it ushered in a new epoch in Ohio Northern homecomings. A different, enlivened spirit permeated the entire event. The secret of its success lay in the fact that the program ~~was~~ planned and organized months ahead of time. Alumni and students worked in unison to a common end.

Outstanding was the defeat of the "jinx" that has haunted our homecoming games for the past eight years when Northern overwhelmed Capital; and the Prom, first dance on the campus in sixty-one years, which was held at the Gymnasium. Seven hundred fifty-four people attended; Bud Snyder's Northerners made their initial appearance upon the campus.

Great credit must be extended to the Alumni Homecoming Committee, the members of which were; T. B. Bartlett, A.B. in '17, of Columbus, Ohio; chairman, L. H. Gardiner, C.E. in '16, of Cleveland; R. P. Overmyer, A.B., '26, of Toledo; B. F. Snyder, B.S., '17, of Ada; J. E. Wells, B.S.E.E., '22, of Detroit; and C. L. Moyer, C.E., '09, who is president of the National Alumni Association.

WISH to thank my splendid staff for the enthusiasm and the efficiency which they displayed throughout the year's work.

It was their support that was most heartening in a year that has brought not only the usual trials and tribulations that beset publication work, but a Financial handicap that for a time threatened the very existence of this book as well.

Whether or not the 1933 Northern meets with its readers' approval, let the readers know "by these presents" that no fault may be laid to the members of the staff with exception of

O N. U. "Bared" Manual

THE Greeks had a word for it. But how much better off we might have been if they'd kept it—and, in fact, their whole darn alphabet—to themselves instead of letting their funny-looking letters clutter up posterity, even to such beauty spots of the world as Ada, Ohio. For here is Northern, simply bristling with 'Greeks' enough to frighten the poor Frosh completely, until he discovers (along about his second quarter) that it isn't so hard to be a fraternity man—all you need is a pipe, a pair of knickers, and a rather easily acquired vocabulary of remarks about football women and likker. (No, pardon, it should be Likker, football, and women.),

Of course this year most of the fraternity lads have been staying in Saturdays to do their own washing and raising chickens and rabbits in the backyards for provender—all that is, except the Sig Eps who continue to reside in their palatial mansion and to turn out bigger and better athletes, bigger and better brawls, bigger and better Flunks, and so on. In fact, their motto really is "Bigger and Better"—but maybe you knew that.

They manage to keep the south 'end in such an uproar that nobody else is brave enough to live down there except the Theta Kaps who aren't afraid of having to take the rap because they think they are such sweet, innocent-appearing lads. Oh, BUT the parties they can give—Sharlee, vassyoudere?

The Kappa Sighs reside out near Dola in a quaint old antique farmhouse, completely furnished with the bell off the little red schoolhouse (because you can't wake those tough guys with an ordinary bell) and a stuffed owl which Brother Hakes once shot during his nocturnal ramblings. They are all very popular on the campus because their would-be enemies are afraid of being poisoned.

Traveling due west on College Avenue, one comes upon the ruined pueblo which serves as dwelling place for the Delta Sigs. They have been talking about building a new house now for as many years as anyone can remember, and the only reason they didn't do it this year, they plead, is that they were so wrapped up in their studying, crocheting, jackstraw-playing, and other engrossing occupations. Rumor hath it that the real reason they don't built it is that they'd feel so lost without something to talk about from year to year.

Somewhere down in the wilds of Gilbert Street is a nest of Phi Mus, who, having grown weary of being razzed all these years for being students, have turned into a wild lot of would-be playboys and can be found most any night cruising the streets of the desperate city of Kenton. However, it is whispered that they are not so bad as they think they are.

But speaking of students, why not mention the Si Dekes—those hard-boiled eggs who camp out in an abandoned morgue? They are generally strong, silent men, shunning publicity, but they did break into the limelight once this year when one of their members was tried for murder. However, he was acquitted, and the honor of dear old Sigma Delta Kappa remains intact.

And now we come to the nose-tilted gangs who dwell north of the railroad tracks—the dudes. The A. E. Pi's are that kind of a bunch, living in happy seclusion on aristocratic Montford Street. Another reason for their high-hattishness is Joe Vinocur's car parked out in front of their establishment—but then it would add to the looks of any house.

Then, on up the main stem a ways, is a large yellow brick structure which looks like an apartment house, but is really the Sig Pi hangout. However, it is said, that it is not really a house at all, but merely a porch with a false wall—at least that's where the brothers always are, offering valuable advice and comment to any pedestrians who are brave enough to pass by. House or no house, it makes a Fine background for homecoming decorations and the boys generally cop the prize with that cute picture of the world.

And at the most northernly neck of the woods you would find, if you traveled that far, (but then, you wouldn't) a most forbidding old fortress all Ferociously guarded by cannon and deaths heads; and if you were brave enough to go inside you would find it manned by a squadron of huge, fierce athletes entitled T.N.E's. Confidentially, they are not as fearful as one would at first sight believe—the real reason why they live so Far from the madding crowd is that they are all four-letter men, either actual or embryo, and they are deathly afraid someone might offer them a cigarette.

There is still another group, not so easily located, for their specialty seems to be hide-and-seek. "Now you see 'em and now you don't." The profs have become quite used to this little game it seems, and reconciled to it, but it arouses the ire of the bill collectors. They are popularly known for want of a better name, as the Delta Thet's and those who claim to have seen them report them to be a most handsome, brilliant, musical group of lawyers, but no definite confirmation of this report could be obtained up until press time.

There is one more fraternity on the campus—Psi Eta Pi, but it is a true secret society, and no one knows its location, members, purpose, or insignia, so perhaps we'd better not mention it!

Now it becomes necessary to mention the sororities. Why, yes indeed, there are sororities here! Four of them; and it's your own fault if you haven't heard of them. Heard them, rather. After all, a pitched battle can't go on without some clamor. What with the Theta's taking all gym events, offices, and men; the Phi Chi's copping off the Prom Queen; and the Xi Bet's darting in once in a while, things certainly do hum. Of the four

Tau Kappa Kappa alone maintains an exterior of pacifism, and that's only for the same reason that Switzerland doesn't take Panama or the Philippines. But to introduce the contestants:

The afore-mentioned Theta's are the B.S.O.C.'s (Big Shots On Campus) and as such generally manage to run all campus affairs. Be it a tournament, election or a man, they run it. All this, strange to say, in the face of a retiring modesty that is their greatest weakness. All in all, they should be given an A-grade on what a sorority should be.

The Tau Kappa Kappa's provide the local color. They are composed mainly of "natives," and their meeting place is wherever they hang their hats and coats.

Xi Beta Chi is the two-year's sorority. Maybe it can be called, therefore, half a sorority. (Ouch, the editor will cut that!) It seem that a couple of willy-Walters hang their hats at the Xi Bet house with an alarming frequency. Enter this house on any night and you will find nice young men everywhere; even, it is said, draped on the chandeliers. So you must come early and avoid the rush. These Eves are some workers.

The Phi Chi's are a varied lot, and are often classed as the Theta's most formidable rivals. These women (belying their looks) are really bright and, to prove it, won the scholarship cup Fall quarter. They, too, have several devoted swains cluttering up the landscape, steps, etc., of their home. You see, they have a Jinx, but as a Rule they get along pretty well. They have some local color also, but this adds punch to their scholastic prowess, and hence is not to be deplored. All in all they are a pretty good bunch.
